

Hannah became a Trustee of the 948 Sports Foundation in 2025, and feels privileged to have the opportunity to give back to the local community.

Hannah has played rugby since the age of 8, playing for Loughborough University, Sydney University, Auckland, Wasps and of course OA Saints, earning several junior caps for England along the way. She is the current Chair of OA Saints and is proud to provide a grassroots pathway for female players from juniors to the Championship and beyond.

Having relied on scholarship and UK Sport funding for support in her own sporting endeavours, Hannah feels strongly about the power of sport as a tool for social mobility and is passionate about the impact that sports participation can have on social and physical development.

Outside of rugby, Hannah held several roles in sport sponsorship prior to joining the Civil Service, where she now specialises in social security policy.
